

2023 Enduro race rules for Benton Speedway

No SUV's

No 4 wd

No all wheel drives

It is highly recommended to have a rollover bar with approved metal and welds.

No fence post, T post, etc.

We do have the right to refuse your rollover bar due to it being unsafe.

All seatbelts must be functionable for driver and passengers.

If your windshield has been removed, you must have a minimum of three bars, welded or bolted in the place of the windshield.

If your side glasses and windshield have been busted out, all glass must be removed or your car will NOT pass tech.

No headlights

No trim

All doors must be welded, bolted or chained shut.

You must have a minimum of 18 inch tall numbers on each side of the car and on the roof.

If your battery has been relocated into the car, it must have a rubber mat covering it and secured.

If your fuel tank is removed from underneath and installed inside the car, it must have a rubber mat covering it and be strapped securely.

A four-door car can have a total of four people.

A two door car can have a total of two people.

You must have 1 fire extinguisher per 2 people in the vehicle.

You must pit in the infield.

You and your passenger/passengers are the only people that can be in the pit area.
You cannot have a pit crew sitting in the infield, you will be disqualified if anyone else is in pit area.

Absolutely no passing during a red flag
No rough driving, these are Enduro races not demolition derbies.

We are running a points series, and there will be a banquet at the end of the season.

Like all rules, there is a grey area, but if it says you can't do it, then don't.
